The Art of Nature

SERIP

SERIP

Every breath is a new beginning...

Craftsmanship has been our philosophy, the soul poured into every detail, the mastery of generations shaping raw materials into expressions of life's unpredictable beauty. No two creations are the same. Each piece blends ancestral techniques with boundless vision, mirroring the individuality of nature, which never repeats itself.

And neither do we.

Every creation carries the weight of tradition and the spark of the extraordinary, bridging the gap between art and life. We celebrate nature as muse, teacher, and collaborator. We honor its infinite capacity for renewal, its power to inspire awe, and its ability to forge connections. In every piece, you'll find a tribute to the elements that shape our world, an echo of the wonder that surrounds us.

The Art of Nature is an invitation to see not only with the eyes, but with the heart. To rediscover the harmony in contrasts, the balance in asymmetry, and the enduring beauty of imperfection. Each design tells a story, one that resonates with life's rhythms and the quiet wisdom of the natural world.

This is The Art of Nature as we see it—alive, eternal, and endlessly inspiring.

Craft

There is something profound in the act of creation, in the way hands shape raw materials into something that carries meaning. It's a language spoken through the hands of artisans, a connection between past and present, where history breathes through each creation.

From the first ancestral gestures shaping raw materials to the refined skills passed down through generations, every piece carries the soul of those who came before. In a world ruled by symmetry and repetition, true artistry thrives in the organic, the imperfect, the unique. Each creation is sculpted without mechanical constraints, infused with the essence of nature and the warmth of tradition.

At Serip, heritage and innovation intertwine. Bronze, glass, and fire merge into unique forms that transcend uniformity, celebrating individuality, contrast, and the beauty found in irregularity.

Artisans

Beyond the artistry, it's the souls behind it all that make Serip truly special. Different faces, different stories, all bound by the same light. Their vision, their touch, their emotions, is where our creativity finds its pulse.

Creativity is a spark, but it's artisans who turn it into a flame. Their hands shape, their minds dream, their hearts pour devotion into every detail, and then, art flourishes. It's in this shared energy that our pieces come to life.

Our artisans are the essence, the soul behind every curve, every light, every piece. Serip is where art meets heart.

Tailor—made

The art of creation begins with a vision, an unbounded desire to shape something truly unique.

Bespoke design is the freedom to bring that vision to life. With an exquisite selection of materials and the opportunity to create the perfect fit, we empower you to move beyond the ordinary and embrace the extraordinary, unfolding endless possibilities of metal finishes, rich glass hues, luxurious fabrics, timeless stone, and a variety of shapes and sizes.

Designed to belong, every personalized touch adds depth and meaning, transforming each piece into a reflection of a space, a feeling, a story waiting to be told. We dare you to design boldly, from the concept to creation, to forge imagination and venture beyond limits. Here, craftsmanship is an art form, each piece shaped by hand, designed with soul, and made to be one of a kind.

Organic

Nature is our greatest muse, the ultimate artisan sculpting beauty through time. In a constant conversation with the earth, we honor the imperfect perfection found in its intricate patterns, from the delicate curve of a leaf to the inviting warmth of sunlit wood.

Embracing its unpredictability and raw charm, every material and form speaks the language of nature, nurturing its spirit through each creation.

Luxury

Luxury is the rare beauty that stops time. It is found in the details, in the glow of something extraordinary, in the careful touch of human hands shaping something truly unique. It is about authenticity.

Our pieces are designed to be treasured forever. To be appreciated as the rare artistry that stands apart from the ordinary. Branches that flow like ink, glass that holds the glow of fire, metal that breathes with the pulse of nature.

Each creation carries the essence of something rare and unrepeatable. The perfect balance of asymmetry and precision. A celebration of uniqueness, exclusivity, luxury.

Beauty without denying chaos

Origem

There is something about life that blossoms unexpectedly through the brokenness of the rocks, manifesting unlikely beauties that sparkle amidst the chaos.

Inspired by this symbolism emerges the Origem collection that contemplates the embracing of the improbable, appreciating beauty without denying chaos, originating life and light in the unexpected.

Poetry and ballet

Voa

A swirl of wings cuts through the air, poetry takes flight and the Voa Collection emerges.

A symphony of swallows paints the sky with untraceable paths as their movements flow freely and gracefully. Sculpted by nature's hand, they weave seamlessly between the textured branches, with the fluid elegance of their forms, balancing strength and delicacy in perfect unity. As if awakened by spring itself, tiny swallows emerge from their hidden refuges, entwining themselves with light and vitality as they twist and intertwine with their surroundings. Through their delicate ballet and enchanting songs, they breathe new life into every inhabited space, inviting you to witness the beauty of renewal and the choreography of nature itself.

Calathea

Rising from the dense and untamable tropical forests, the Calathea unfurls its leaves with a breathtaking grace that reflects life's quiet wonder.

Its intricate patterns and gentle response to light, folding and opening in harmony with its surroundings, remind us of the importance of staying connected to the world around us, to embrace transformation with elegance and to trust in the natural flow that guides us. This collection is a celebration of nature's artistry and a reflection of its quiet wisdom, inviting us to find beauty in life's twists and turns and to let the light lead us toward something extraordinary.

Dandelion

We die and reborn many times over this lifetime. We are cyclical beings, where each end leads to a new beginning, and therefore to a new opportunity. Like the sun and the moon, life and death are complementary opposites, which do not exist without each other, that sustain equilibrium and together define a “whole”.

In the reflex of this duality comes the Serip’s Dandelion collection, that through its pieces reveals a darker and more abrupt side at the same time, that is subtle and graceful.

Picturesque sight of Autumn

Folio

Golden sunlight filters through a canopy of amber and ochre tones, illuminating the delicate veins of maple leaves as they drift gently to the ground, forming vibrant piles that glow with the warmth of the season.

It is from this serene and fleeting beauty that the Folio Collection emerges, kissed by golden accents that echo the gentle grace of sunlight filtering through tree branches, while each piece transforms the essence of an autumn afternoon into breathtaking artistry.

It brings the magic of fall indoors, wrapping hearts in its cozy embrace and dazzling eyes with its radiant, timeless charm.

A phenomenon of nature

Geyser

Emerging like the breathtaking eruption of a geyser, the Geyser Collection captures the raw energy and grace of nature's most awe-inspiring phenomena.

Each piece transforms light and glass into a dynamic spectacle, where flowing shapes evoke the surge of water and the ethereal rise of steam. The interplay of colors offers endless possibilities, creating visions as captivating as the geyser's fleeting magic.

The glass seems alive, echoing the rhythm of rushing streams and the soaring ascent of vapor into the sky, embodying a perfect balance of strength and fragility, as if nature itself has been frozen mid-motion.

A dedication to Piet Mondrian

Mondrian

A meeting of opposites takes shape as geometry is refined by the fluid grace of nature.

In the Mondrian Collection, the precision of line meets the organic flow of the world, echoing Piet Mondrian's quest for simplicity and balance. His evolution from naturalism to abstraction was driven by a desire to distill life's complexity into pure form, while still maintaining a deep connection to the natural world.

This dialogue between structure and nature comes to life in this collection, where golden textures flow like water over stone while crystalline glass reflects the clarity of Mondrian's geometry.
It is a harmonious blend of form and movement, capturing the essence of both the organic and the abstract, and reminding us that true beauty lies in their seamless fusion.

Inspired by the surrealism of Dali

Dali

Objects defy logic and compositions unravel with a graceful interplay of chaos and mastery, drawing you into a world of fantasy.

Disjointed juxtapositions and impossible arrangements stir the imagination, balancing delicately between the recognizable and the extraordinary, where logic dissolves into the dreamlike. Carrying the spirit of surrealism at its core, the Dali Collection evokes an era of provocative creativity.

Textures and structures blend seamlessly, challenging perception and transforming the ordinary into fantastical new forms. Each piece invites a moment of wonder, a pause to reimagine. In the glow of these designs, a parallel universe unfolds, a place where reality bends, dreams take shape, and the surreal becomes a tangible, living story.

Inspired by the
shapes of sea life

Carpa

Born from the poetry of rivers and the timeless dance of water, the Carpa Collection draws its soul from the grace of the Carpa fish, a river dweller revered for its flowing form and shimmering scales.

Sculpted to evoke the quiet beauty of life beneath the surface, the collection captures a world where currents shape every detail and light dances on rippling water. The design captures the essence of the Carpa's tail, whose fluid, organic movement is reimagined in bold metallic shapes. With each curve and line, the collection whispers of nature's imperfect perfection.

The delicate scales carved into the surface mimic the texture of life itself, a rhythm both free and precise. Its forms are bold yet refined, raw yet elegant, bridging the elemental energy of river life with the craftsmanship of human artistry.

Home
Complements

The wind flows, shaping the land, while the ocean moves gently, smoothing the stones.

Beneath the surface, roots intertwine, silent yet strong, grounding the earth. Rivers carve their paths with patience, branches stretch toward the light, and leaves dance to the rhythm of unseen currents. Everything moves, transforms and weaves together in a quiet force that never ceases, shaping the world in endless motion. In this raw poetry of organic textures and forms, our home complements are born - bold, unrefined, yet alive, bringing the power of nature indoors.

Rhiza

Roots teach us what it means to thrive in adversity. In the silence of the earth, they find their way, twisting, stretching, and weaving through rock and soil. They do not resist obstacles, they embrace them, adapting and growing stronger.

The Rhiza cabinet handles carry that story, their organic forms echoe the quiet power of roots and the profound lessons they leave beneath our feet. Growth is not about perfection, but about finding strength in the unexpected and purpose in every twist and turn.

Ginkgo

Each handle carries the spirit of Ginkgo, its textured surface like a fossilized whisper, preserving a fragment of an ancient tale. It feels alive, as if the tree's story has been pressed into metal, waiting to be rediscovered with every touch. Its quiet strength pulses through every detail, a resilience that refuses to fade.

Ginkgo Collection honors the beauty of permanence and the durability of things that remain unshaken through life's storms. Survival became its essence, and beauty its most enduring triumph. A timeless poetry of the immortal tree, now transformed into art.

Natura

In the quiet corners of the forest, where sunlight filters through a canopy of green and the ground is littered with the poetry of fallen branches, something extraordinary begins.

It is here, among the graceful twists of twigs and the sturdy reach of tree limbs, that the essence of Natura Collection takes root and the nature's wild beauty is reimagined through human touch.

They are fragments of the forest's soul. Each line carries the memory of wind-blown days and moonlit nights, of bark that once thrived under the vast, endless skies.

Vogel

For millions of years, the moon has carried the quiet scars of the cosmos, its surface marked by countless craters that tell the story of ancient collisions, moments of chaos transformed into enduring beauty.

In the stillness of this lunar landscape lies the inspiration for the Vogel Collection, where the vast expanse of the moon's rugged contours, bathed in light and shadow, is reflected in the finely crafted details of each handle.

Pando

From the Latin “I spread”, Pando means exactly that, the propagation and growth of root systems that function as a continuous extension of intertwined roots.

Inspired by a single tree colony, named Quaking Aspen in Utah, this door handle demonstrates the grandeur and conveys the strength needed to sustain the art of nature for millions of years. It serves as a testament to the enduring power of organic growth, seamlessly blending natural inspiration with refined craftsmanship.

Liana

Liana handle represents any long-stemmed woody vine that is rooted in the soil and climbs or twines around other plants. Flattened or twisted lianas often become tangled together to form a hanging network.

Its flowing, sculptural form evokes a sense of fluidity and harmony, making it a striking addition to any interior. Meticulously crafted, it seamlessly blends artistry with utility, bringing a touch of the natural world into everyday spaces.

Torso

In a forest shaped by time and wind, two branches reached toward the sky, their forms carved by years of quiet resilience.

They swayed in harmony with the breeze, their curves capturing the rhythm of life, an eternal dance that only the trees remember. From their elegance, the Torso handles were born. They carry within them the soul of those twisting branches and the fluid grace of a body silhouette frozen, caught mid-dance.
